Chapter 2 by LethalPianist

Dude, just don't.

We know this isn't real.

Don't play with us like this. Our community is honest, and we don't want you to pull something like this so when one day, one of us actually IS in trouble, nobody will believe us.

You'll be fine.

(Totally not saying this because I'm the person that kidnapped him and found his phone.)

Chapter 3 by LethalPianist

Damn, he's struggling in the trunk too much.

No, wait... I meant I totally don't have him in my trunk or anything. Has anyone seen Intellikat recently?

That set aside, I'm so excited. Vacationing in China is really awesome.

Oh crap, I'm getting stopped by a cop.

Cya.

Chapter 4 by ໂຄຍກະ ພັດເກຣ

I just saw the weirdest thing while vacationing in China.

Chapter 5 by A_Merry_Kat

Hey, has anyone else been getting spammed a pic of this dude being stuffed in a trunk? It looks like police footage... how'd someone even get that?

Chapter 7 by LethalPianist

Nope. Nope. Nope.

I mean, i definitely don't have two people in my trunk now. I definitely didn't get caught by the police. And I most DEFINITELY did NOT leave a mound of corpses behind me.

Nope. I mean, there's no way I have a big enough trunk for TWO people. Right?

Right?

Oh shit they're struggling too much

Chapter 8 by Grasshopper

You know, this trunk is really roomy. If I were to cut them up into smaller pieces, I COULD get more bodies in here..... But who??? Hmm..... Maybe I'm over thinking this. Maybe.... Just Maybe....

I drove the car back to my laboratory and loaded them both onto tables. I carefully took them apart and cataloged each piece. Only the best parts would do.. moo haha. Veloxicism's feet... Nice! I connected them to Intellikat's legs. Neither of their torsos quite the right for this build, so I used some spares I had laying around. I worked diligently through the night connecting all the odd pieces, then I administered the reanimation potion, and applied electric shock!

IT'S... ALIVE
